

Extra Tasks:

Task 1: Create a program which takes the information about person like name, cnic, address and birth year and current year and then displays the same data of the user as output but one difference instead of birth year and current year it should display the difference of both which will show your current age.

Task 2: Create a program in which you manipulate the output such that you display an introduction of yourself and your hobbies.